

University of Virginia.

We are gratified to learn that since the suspension of lectures at this institution, on the 20th of March, all sickness has disappeared there. It is estimated that more than one hundred students are remaining at, or immediately about the University, during the suspension. Among this number, as well as in the families of the professors and other persons connected with the institution, there is not a single case of sickness of any kind. It is proper to state that none of the students within the college proper are occupied. They were immediately after the suspension, all vacated, and have since been undergoing the most thorough repair. No trouble or expense has been spared by the Board of Visitors to remove every cause which may have heretofore produced ill-health, and to adopt every expedient calculated to prevent its future. Floors have been removed, cellars thoroughly cleaned and ventilated, drains opened and paved, etc. In addition to this there has been a copious use of lime and other disinfectants in every quarter, and sanitary measures of such character generally taken that it is hard to suppose that disease can again find lodgment there, at least for some time.

We cannot but feel sanguine hopes of entire good health at the University after the resumption of duties on the 1st May. In addition to the reasons before specified above, there is another which is perhaps not generally known. In the year 1829 an epidemic prevailed, in every respect similar to that which is now prevailing at the University. A suspension of lectures was had in consequence, in the spring of that year, for six weeks, during which time like sanitary measures to those now in progress were taken. After the suspension no more sickness of any kind occurred, and public confidence in the healthfulness of the place was speedily restored.—a confidence, we believe never again shaken until the present session.

The strict analogy which has existed in the character of the disease, the time and length of the suspensions, etc., in the two cases, warrants the expectation, certainly, that after the 1st of May, no more sickness will occur at the University. That such may, indeed, be the case, we devoutly wish, for we would much deplore any further hindrance to the prosperity of an institution of which we have as Virginians, such good right to feel proud.—Lynchburg Virginian.

At a meeting of the STAR FIRE COMPANY, held on Friday evening, the 23rd inst., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
Resolved, That this Company regrets that any real or fancied necessity, existed for the passage of the recent law by the City Council, and that the passage of said law was prompted by a desire to promote the good order of the city, and in the Fire Department, we deem it but sufficient to know that such is the law, to command for its observance.

Resolved, That as the City Council, Insurance Companies, and citizens generally, contributed of their means to aid in the purchase of our pious, with the view that it might be used for the preservation and protection of the property of all, we regard the possession of our apparatus as a mere trust, for that purpose.

MURDER IN FAUQUIER.—On Saturday last, Thos. Bell, residing near the Plains in this county, was brought to Warrenton by constable Rousie charged with the crime of murdering his wife. The parties for some time had not been upon good terms, the witnesses all testifying that Bell's conduct was such as to call forth complaints from his wife. From all that we can learn, the murder was a very cowardly and unprovoked one, and we trust that justice will be awarded the prisoner.—Warrenton Whig.

SALES.—Newton Vowles esq., has recently sold one hundred and thirty-five acres of land, a part of his plantation, to Martin P. Brooke, esq., for $35 an acre. This we hear, is considered a very good sale.

Mr. Frank Fred, has sold his farm near Piedmont Depot, to Cook Shooklett, esq., of Philadelphia, formerly of this county, for $574 per Acre. The farm contained three hundred acres.—Warrenton Whig.

BROKE JAIL.—A couple of darkies, one free, and the other a slave of Mr. Williams, of Dinwiddie county, escaped from our city jail on Sunday morning last, and have thus far eluded the vigilance of the officers.

They had been in the jail to enjoy a promenade in the jail yard, and with the aid of a plank which they found on the premises, succeeded in scaling the walls, when they forthwith made tracks to parts unknown.—Petersburg Dem.

On Saturday last a gentleman named Henry Mayo, at Tine Creek Mills, Powhatan county, was accidentally caught by the saw while in motion, which cut one of his legs entirely off, throwing it a distance of ten feet. His injuries were so serious that he died in the course of two hours thereafter. He leaves a large family of children to mourn his sudden and untimely end.

Mr. Charles Bragg has been elected Mayor, and Messrs. Jas. V. Brooke, John G. Beckham, John A. Conlton, John R. Tongue, John A. Spilman, J. H. Watson, and Wm. H. Carlin, Aldermen of Warrenton Va.

A telegraphic despatch from Goldsboro, N. C., dated the 26th says:—It has been snowing here all day, and is now falling fast. It is snowing also at Hillsboro' and Raleigh.

The Blue Ridge Mountains in sight of Warrenton as far as the eye can reach, are now covered with snow.

The Warrenton Whig says:—The recent cold weather, we fear has done serious injury to fruit in this section.

It was not the intention or wish of "An Active Freeman" to cast censure on the "Councils," or to keep their action before the citizens, but to use his humble efforts in restoring harmony where discord now reigns. Neither did he wish to "invent a law," &c., for it would not have any practical benefit. In my first article, "Fire Department" was used where "Councils" should have been. This makes the case worse for "A Freeman of 1827." It being a regulation of the Council, makes its position more unenviable. I regret, exceedingly, that "A Freeman of 1827" has such meagre materials to work upon, in order to sustain his feeble case; that he is driven to the necessity of taking advantage of a slip of the pen, and resorting to such palpable special pleading as his last effort evinces. There may be a power behind the throne, greater than the Councils, nor able to anticipate their unexpressed reasons for changing their unexpressed regulations, I am excusable for filling into the error attributed to me, if it error be. If the Councils were really actuated by the reasons assigned, why did they not carry out the idea in the numbering of the Wardens? How stand the facts? There are five Companies in the city, and the first Warden of each Company should have been classified regularly, according to juniority, from 1 to 5, the second Wardens from 6 to 10; and instead of that, No. 1, the 2nd and 5th; No. 3, the 3rd and 8th; No. 2, the 4th and 6th; No. 4, the 6th and 9th. By this arrangement, No. 4 has been excluded from the first five. There may be some hidden reason for the omission this year, in order to give that Company greater precedence and honor next year. (I wish it to be distinctly understood, that I do not believe that Company desires any such favor or notoriety—such strange things happen. I ventured the thought.) The reasons given by "A Freeman of 1827" begs the question completely, and have no intrinsic worth or merit to sustain them. My first article was the plainest in stating the cause of the unkind feeling that now exists, to have been caused by the interference of the Councils in the numbering of the Wardens. The new law added to the fire. "A Freeman of 1827" has fallen into the same error as other writers, volunteering "additional aid." Let those "many who have retired from service" fall into line again! Their presence will be hailed with joy and acclamation. Now is the time to prove their sincerity. The Star Fire Company is as respectable and orderly as any Fire Company in the world—there is room enough on her roll-book for more names, and the "many who have retired from service" can enroll their names there. My "opportunities for a large number of citizens," are quite as good as many others, but the time has been too short for me to ascertain their opinion. "An Active Freeman" says: "I am one who never failed in duty as an active freeman, and remained a member of a company until self respect caused me to retire." Here is a plain contradiction: when he retired, he "failed in duty." If the membership deteriorated in morals I felt the duty more imperative to remain, and by my presence, and poor influence, endeavor to subdue and keep in check their roteness and immorality. The task is not as arduous as many imagine. The most refractory have hearts, and possess some of the attributes of human nature—and they are not always appealed to in vain. My experience has taught me to treat all kindly, and the most unruly may be subdued or checked. Harshness produces the contrary effect. True, there are exceptions in this, as in all other cases. I would, with all due deference, advise our "City Fathers," and those writers, to seek and call to their aid a little more of the public and human kind, than "Spontaneously," and "Citizens of Alexandria," are account "Citizens of Alexandria." My only object was to "keep the late action of the City Councils before the citizens." My only object was to have the matter properly understood.

In the Senate, yesterday, communications were received from the Court of Claims in relation to claims referred by the Senate; also, from the Secretary of the Navy concerning a resolution of inquiry as to the cost of printing certain reports.

Mr. Gwin presented several memorials, together with a resolution, looking to the establishment of certain post routes in California.

Mr. Stuart introduced a bill relative to the appropriation of certain public lands in Minnesota.

Mr. Broderick made an unsuccessful effort to call up a resolution making inquiry of the Postmaster General respecting certain causes of complaint in connection with the San Francisco Post Office.

Mr. Green called up the report of the Kansas Conference Committee.

Mr. Crittenden addressed the Senate in opposition to the report. He contended that the effect of this recommendation of the committee was to offer the people of Kansas, in case they would forego their complaints and accept the Lecompton Constitution, they should be rewarded by being admitted into the Union right away, and have a large grant of land as a reward for that act. If, on the contrary, they refuse it, they shall not come into the Union until their population is sufficient to warrant their admission under the general law, but they shall also not have the grant of land otherwise allowed.

In the House of Representatives, the Speaker laid before them a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, enclosing the statements of the banks throughout the country.

Mr. Letcher moved that two thousand copies of the document be printed; the motion was referred to the Committee on Printing.

A communication was received from the Secretary of War stating that the report and map of Capt. Beale on the wagon road from Fort Defiance to the Colorado river, had not yet been received by the Department; and that they will be sent to the House as soon as they shall be received.

Mr. Pettit made a majority report from the select committee appointed to investigate the facts and circumstances attending the sale of the Fort Snelling property.

Mr. Burnett made a minority report; the consideration of the subject was postponed until 18th of May.

Mr. Hughes submitted a resolution proposing to censure Mr. Spinner for yesterday asking to introduce a resolution, embodying slanderous attacks upon the Commissioner of the Land Office, Senator Bright, and Representatives English and Foley.

Mr. Spinner replied briefly to Mr. Hughes.

LOCAL ITEMS.

RAILROAD MEETINGS.—A called meeting of the stockholders of the Manassas Gap Railroad Company, is to be held in this city to-day. A meeting of the stockholders of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad Company, is called for to-morrow. These meetings are for the purpose of considering the recent acts passed by the Legislature, granting loans to these companies, and for the transaction of other business. It is likely there will be a full attendance at both meetings.

THE OLDEN TIMES.—We have been favored by Captain Ellis L. Price, son of the publisher, with a number (413, vol. IV) of "The Columbian Mirror and Alexandria Gazette," printed every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, by Ellis Price, at the east end of the Market House. This number is dated Feb. 6, 1796. It is of folio form, the size of the page about 10 by 15 inches. Among the advertisements we notice one for Lime and Limestone by the Directors of the Potomack Company, signed by John Fitzgerald, President; George Gilpin, James Keith, Directors at Alexandria; John Teplanian, Tobias Lear, Directors at Georgetown. They also advertise a call of ten pounds per cent. on the new stock of the Company, to be paid to Wm. Hartsburne, Treasurer. The opening of books for subscriptions to the Stock of the Eastern Branch Bridge, at Leslie's Tavern, in the City of Washington, is advertised by Noddy Young, Dan'l. Carroll of Duddington, W. M. Duncan, Thomas Law and George Walker. The mercantile advertisements are those of Ford, Patten & Co., MacLeod & Lumsden, John Neill, Geo. Dinker, James Porter, Thomas Richards & Edmond Edmonds, J. Riddle & Co., Rogers & Brent, Vendue Masters, Mandeville & Jameson, Pomeroy & Isbell, Wm. Wilson, and Clingman and McGaw. The merchants are requested to assemble at the house of Mr. Wise, to deliberate upon some subjects of an interesting commercial nature, that will be laid before them. Wm. Summers, Town Sergeant, advertises the annual election for town councilmen, adding the hope that "the citizens of Alexandria will consider the right of suffrage as a principle too important to relinquish by neglect or inattention." William Holston advertises that he will embark shortly for England, and calls on all to come and settle up before he leaves. The latest news from Savannah is to January 18. The minds of the citizens of that town were much agitated by the apprehension of the repeal of the late act for disposing of the western territory of Georgia. "The legislature are now in session, and party spirit runs so high that the lives of some of the members cannot be ensured. There was certainly fraud made use of in passing the act; and if this fraud, perjury and corruption be proved, the act is null and void." The famous Yazoo fraud is here referred to. The report of Timothy Pickens, Secretary of War, is published, giving an exhibit of the state and progress of the navy and fortifications. There was then no Secretary of the Navy. In consequence of an adverse report from the engineer, the building of the forts at Annapolis and Alexandria was abandoned. The list of letters is signed by James M. McKim, P. M. John Callender advertises that he intends to open a school for teaching Church Music in four parts, at the Council Chamber. Garden Chapin, Cashier, advertises, that books will be opened for subscriptions for the augmented stock of the Bank of Alexandria.

Not one of the parties named in this paper is, we believe, now living.

SUN RISE PRAYER MEETINGS.—We are requested to state that Sun rise prayer meetings, will be held every morning during this week, at the Methodist Protestant Church, commencing at 5½ o'clock.

THE NATIONAL MEDICAL CONVENTION met in Washington, on Monday, at the Smithsonian Institute. There were upwards of one hundred members present. Several committees were appointed, and several pieces sung. It was concluded to have three sessions per day. At the afternoon session Mr. Root exercised the members in the proper use of the vocal organs of the throat and mouth.

We understand that the Rev. William Pinckney, D. D., Rector of the "Church of the Ascension," in Washington City, is expected to preach in Christ Church, to-night.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN WASHINGTON.—About 12 o'clock last night a fire was discovered breaking out in the store of S. Ephen Brown, on Seventh street, near the corner of Maryland Avenue. A large number of the citizens of the neighborhood quickly assembled and endeavored to extinguish the fire, but all their efforts proved unavailing. The flames soon spread to the adjoining buildings, and in the space of two hours reached from Hughes's Flouring mill gardens to Messrs. George E. Kirk, A. L. H. Inwood, William Hughes, J. Curwinn and G. B. Grinnell, and were occupied as follows:

The corner store, a two-story brick, was occupied by J. F. B. Purcell, grocer, whose loss is estimated at $1500.

The others, fronting on Seventh street, were occupied by John E. Baker, dry goods dealer; Mr. Fraubak, clothier; S. Brown, tobaccoist; W. Byly, harness maker; Kazy & Bro., liquor dealers;—Tucker, shoe-maker.

Mr. Maryland Avenue the buildings were occupied by C. C. Anderson, blacksmith; J. Cornwell, wheelwright; and J. B. Grinnell, a pump-maker.

The individual losses, as far as ascertained, are estimated to be as follows: Purcell, $1500; Baker, $400; Byly, $200; Grinnell, $200; Cornwell, $200; Anderson, $75; Fraubak, $200; Kazy & Bro., $1800.

Mr. Purcell, we understand, was insured for $20,000 in the Fidelity and Mechanics' Insurance Co., of Philadelphia. Mr. Baker had his furniture and part of store insured in the Washington Insurance Co.

The value of the buildings consumed has not been ascertained.

Mr. Hughes, floriculturist, loses about $50 by the destruction of his garden fence.

Note of our fire companies were present. Star of yesterday afternoon.
